“This has a nice contrast between a fairly broad black cherry and mulberry fruit core that is eventually harnessed through the finish by racy red tea and mineral notes. Lots of lively savory chaparral notes dart around as well, lending a mouthwatering edge. Lovely range and character, and should develop nicely in the cellar.”

“The Calera Pinot Noir line has been a unique collection in the wine world since its inception, with this bottling leading the way. In 2020, the Jensen Vineyard Pinot shows a fine tuned balance of black cherry, sarsaparilla, fresh turned field earthiness and cinnamon spice. It is zesty and bright for such a dark side expression, and it really sings all the way through. Already nicely integrated, it’s headed for a long life. This is California legacy wine — no doubt about it.”
