POINTS

“This has an alluring core of gently steeped black cherry and black currant fruit, mixed in the licorice root, singed applewood, black tea and mulling spice details. Long finish has a nice steady pulse with a buried minerality running underneath.”

“I am always amazed at the variety of profiles that comes from the Calera line. I imagine it must be great fun for the team to work with sites that are so close together, yet offer such dramatic differences. The de Villiers Vineyard Pinot Noir rambles with cherry liqueur and layered fall spice aromas and flavors over typical Mt. Harlan structure, making for a swashbuckler of a Pinot for fruit-driven style fans who appreciate amazing depth and length.”
