WASHINGTON

2018 COLUMBIA VALLEY CABERNET SAUVIGNON

90
POINTS

Delicious, compelling; a compelling wine of its region; a delicious, finessed expression of place

“Named for the green-winged teal, this is the Duckhorn Portfolio’s project using non-estate vineyards to produce red wines in a lower price tier than Canvasback, its flagship Washington label. This 2018 smells of red-cherry licorice and pepper when first poured, with flavors that are bright red and stolid all at once. It’s the kind of wine to pour with something marbled, like a wagyu burger.”
